

2010 NMELRC Persian "Materials Development" Workshop

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Workshop Director : Pardis Minuchehr

(February 5-7)

This workshop intends to foster collaborations amongst teachers of Persian for developing authentic teaching materials for all levels of Persian for heritage and non-heritage speakers. In the course of this intensive weekend workshop, teachers of Persian will be introduced to various models of standards-based curriculum and materials development, and they will have hands-on sessions for use of technology in Persian language teaching.

This workshop takes place at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia as NMELRC's annual Persian language workshop, co-sponsored by UPenn's Middle east Center, the Penn Language Center, Startalk and the American Association of Teachers of Persian (AATP).
